

Have you wanted to learn more about the basics of doing business in oil and gas? Do you want to learn more about the $32 billion of opportunity in the Bakken every year?

Hosted by the NDSU Research and Technology Park with support from Bakken Backers and the North Dakota Petroleum Council, Bakken Business 101 will feature industry leading experts in the Bakken teaching you about the business and career opportunities available in North Dakota's oil and gas industry, the nation's second largest.

RSVP by emailing: info@backthebakken.org

When: 1:15, March 18, 2020

Where: NDSU Alumni Center, 1241 N University Drive, Fargo ND

This year's agenda is filled with oil and gas leaders with practical knowledge for businesses and entrepreneurs on how to start doing business in the Bakken.

1:15 | Welcome

Brian Kalk, NDSU Representative

1:25 | Oil & Gas 101: Upstream Midstream, Downstream

Whitney Kolquist, Petroleum Engineer

1:50 | Oil & Gas 102: Basics Of Exploration $ Production

Kathy Neset, President, Neset Consulting

2:15 | Investing In Solution: An Overview of Oil & Gas Research Council Solutions

Ron Ness, President, North Dakota Petroleum Council

2:40 | Understanding Sales Relationships

Kevin Black, President, Credence Energy Services

2:55 | Discovering The Needs Of Service Companies

Joshua Decock, Pedigree Technologies

3:10 | Panel: Fargo Entrepreneurs Who Have Done It

Rob Lindberg, Ray Berry, Tom Kenville, Dan Kadrmas

3:55 | Future Of North Dakota Exploration & Production

Lynn Helms, Director, ND Dept. of Mineral Resources

4:25 | Post-Event Discussion

If you want to expand your business into the Bakken, you can't afford to miss Bakken Business 101. RSVP today to reserve your spot for Bakken Business 101 on March 18th!